About Me

Im Darby Koenig and I'm brand new to the field of UI design, I've recently finished a UI/UX course and I'm excited to apply what I've learned and to continue learning from others in the field!

I am interested and love this field because I love to solve problems in a creative and sometimes abstract way. I also have a love for art and visual things, so designing an app with typography, color pallets, iconography etc. is something that I love to do.
